

Text Reading Online (TRO)

The purpose of this assessment is to measure oral reading fluency, accuracy, and comprehension to evaluate students' reading proficiency against grade level expectations.

Text Reading Online uses speech recognition to integrate oral reading accuracy, fluency, and comprehension to determine the student's overall reading proficiency against grade-level expectations. Students read two texts at different levels and answer a set of text-dependent comprehension questions to evaluate their degree of understanding. Students read the texts aloud, which is auto-scored for accuracy and fluency. The first text is at the student's grade level. The second text is adapted based on the student's performance on the initial text. Performance on the two texts determines the final proficiency level and is an indicator of the student's ability to read accurately at an adequate rate with comprehension.

Proficiency Levels- Students' performance on the two texts read determines proficiency:

On-Grade Book Performance	High Text Book Performance	Low Text Book Performance	Proficiency Level Achieved
Pass	Pass	Not Administered	Above (Blue)
Pass	No Pass	Not Administered	Proficient (Green)
No Pass	Not Administered	Pass	Below (Yellow)
No Pass	Not Administered	No Pass	Well Below (Red)

Students' overall Proficiency Levels are interpreted as follows:

Above Proficient (Blue) indicates that students read grade-level text and above grade-level text at an adequate rate for meaning. Proficient (Green) indicates that students read grade-level text at an adequate rate for meaning but were not able to read the above grade-level text at an adequate rate for meaning. Below Proficient (Yellow) indicates that students did not read grade-level text at an adequate rate for meaning but were able to read the below grade-level text at an adequate rate for meaning. Well Below Proficient (Red) indicates that students did not read grade-level and below grade-level texts at an adequate rate for meaning.
